Frequently Asked Questions

Is there a cost for being listed on the 747 Flea Market website?

No. This is a free service we are providing to any tenant who is up-to-date in their rent.

Does my booth have to be listed on the website?

No. this is a completely optional service.

I want my booth listed, but I do not want to include any additional contact information.

No problem. We never give out any information about our tenants without their permission.

I have a separate website for my business. Can you include a link to that?

Yes. If you provide us with the website, we can include a link to your own personal website.

Can I be listed under more than one product category?

No. The only way you can be listed under more than one product category is if you have more than one booth.

I don't know if I want to be listed right now. Can I decide later?

Yes. The website will be updated on a regular basis.
